To Whom It May Concern:

For the past eight years we have been using Doceo for our office needs, and have received wonderful service from John Lewis and his team. In particular, Donna Hake is always friendly and helpful on the phone, and technicians such as Josh McCarthy are always prompt and thorough in responding to our needs.

In addition, it is clear that Doceo values non-profits and charitable organizations. They demonstrate this not only with their pricing, but through direct philanthropic initiatives as well. For example, John played a key role in insuring that our 50th Anniversary Celebration was a success, providing valuable advice, materials, and monetary support.

We are very satisfied with Doceo, and would gladly recommend them to anyone who is looking for someone to handle their office needs.

Sincerely,
